Data-Tel And Vodavi Donate Telephony Equipment To St. Ann Catholic Church

Fairfield, CT— (May 2, 2006) — DATA-TEL and Vodavi Technology, Inc. (NASDAQ:VTEK), a provider of traditional and next generation business telecommunications solutions, announced today that St. Ann Roman Catholic Church in Bridgeport recently received a telecommunications equipment upgrade to improve parish productivity and communication. The donation is valued at more than $10,000.00

Vodavi, which donated the new digital telephone and voice mail system with assorted telephone handsets, established this community outreach program as a way to help 501c3 charitable organizations have access to the latest communication technologies.

DATA-TEL is one of Vodavi's authorized dealers located throughout the U.S. who achieved Vodavi's elite President's Club status making them eligible to nominate a local area charity to receive this one-time equipment donation. DATA-TEL provided installation and training service at no-charge.

"Since we received this generous donation from DATA-TEL and Vodavi, we now have the ability to leave individual voice mails for parish staff and parishioners can now call in for mass schedules and other important notices with the new automated attendant that we can customize," said Father Peter Towsley, Pastor of St. Ann Roman Catholic Church. "Looking back, we realize all the productivity enhancing tasks we can do now with a newer phone system. We are extremely grateful for this gift."

According to Joe Distefano, co-owner of Fairfield, CT-based DATA-TEL. "We are pleased to be able to help St. Ann's achieve better communication for its staff and with its parishioners. Since the new system has been installed both staff and parishioners appreciate how they can more easily reach and communicate with others with the addition of the system's new automated attendant and personal voicemail system. Prior to this the parish had to simply rely on a one line answering machine."
